PROMINENT VISITORS WILL ATTEND CIVIC MEET

FORMER PREMIER IS FORCED TO BED

Lloyd George Cancels
All Engagements
For Today

HOPES TO SPEAK AGAIN TONIGHT

Care Must Be Taken of Ex-premier's Health
Secretary Warns

(Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Oct. 17.—David Lloyd George, former premier of Great Britain, has cancelled all his engagements for today, but hopes to keep the speaking engagement for tonight at the international amphitheater at the stock yards, owing to the continuance of a slight temperature, his doctors have ordered him to remain in bed and rest the greater part of the day.

Lloyd George has a cold, aggravated by fatigue, his secretary, William Sutherland, said but he confidently hopes to speak tonight at the public meeting. He added that with so much of the tour ahead of Lloyd George and with the example of President Wilson's death and former President Wilson's breakdown on tour, it was felt the former Premier's health must be given the greatest of care.

Five years after the world war, democracy, which in 1918 won a great victory over autocracy, is in peril, David Lloyd George, the war-time premier of Great Britain, declared in a luncheon address here. A wave of autocracy seems to be sweeping over the world, he declared, but against it the United States, Great Britain and France will stand together.

"Russia throw over democracy a few months after starting the experiment," the former premier asserted. "Italy, Spain, Bulgaria and now Germany is talking about a dictatorship. Democracy is in peril, in peril five years after the greatest triumph democracy has ever had."

"Why is democracy more sure, safer? It is slower to begin, it does not bring its forces into action in the way perhaps an autocracy does, but in a struggle it is the heart that tells, and democracy sustains the heart, and what happens is that democratic institutions alone can produce and train men that are able to appeal to nations, to rise to those heights of sacrifice which are the last citadels of freedom in all lands."

Shortly after noon Secretary Sutherland announced that Mr. Lloyd George's condition was favorable and he was resting comfortably.

TWO ARE INDICTED IN MURDER PROBE

(By Associated Press)

DUBLIN, Ga., Oct. 17.—Indictment charging murder, was returned by the grand jury here today against L. S. Rogers and Mrs. John Alton Rogers, who are under arrest in Avon Park, Fla., in connection with the killing of John Alton Rogers, near here, last November.

Rogers and his sister-in-law are expected to return to this country tomorrow.

According to a story said to have been related to the grand jury by a third brother of Rogers, the arrested man told the brother that he had slain John and had buried his body in a cornfield. The grave was found by the authorities, who said they identified the body by several gold teeth.

Rogers is said to have gone to Florida with his sister-in-law about a month ago.

County Board to Meet Here Friday

The Morgan County board of education will meet at the court house here Friday morning at 10 o'clock according to announcement of Prof. E. L. Hayes, county superintendent of education. The board will meet to apportion the school money of the county to the several schools, to elect teachers and to fix their salaries.

Visitors Will Be Guests of Kiwanis

Officials of the Morgan Kiwanis club announced this morning that they were planning to entertain the members of the state public service commission Thursday at dinner at the Lyons Hotel. The members of the commission, Messrs. A. G. Patterson, Fitzhugh Lee and Frank Morgan are on a tour of inspection in North Alabama at this time. The dinner Thursday will be the occasion of the regular weekly meeting of the Kiwanis club.

Engaged by Telephone, Will Marry Soon

Miss Eleanor Levy

Pretty Miss Eleanor Levy, a New York City girl graduate of the School of Applied Art, has returned to New York from Albany, Ga., to prepare for her coming wedding to Charles Ginsberg, wealthy importer. Miss Levy's father, Harold A. Levy, is a rich cigar importer. While touring the South with her father, Miss Levy was awakened, in an Albany, Ga., hotel, by a long-distance telephone call from Ginsberg at 3:30 in the morning, and during the ensuing conversation they became engaged.

OFFICERS ELECTED BY "MINUTE MEN"

Movement Inaugurated to Further Work of Jesus Christ

WILL RESPOND TO ALL CALLS MADE

Church Meetings Will Be Aided by New Organization

Responding to a long felt need in the community of closer cooperation among the church members of the several churches, in service where service is needed, soon after the close of the Ham-Ramsay revival a movement was inaugurated to bring a number of the active members of the churches into a layman's movement, pledged to further the religious and moral interests of the city and surrounding communities.

A number of preliminary meetings were held with the result that an organization of those interested in the proposed club, was held at the railroad association last night. Mr. Dillgo was asked to serve and he appointed a committee on permanent organization. With the following results: President A. H. Higson, first vice president, Thomas H. Williams, second vice president, D. D. Gibson, secretary, Mr. Shilberger, treasurer Frank A. Morrow.

In addition to the election of officers, the following committee, A. H. Higson, T. H. Williams and D. D. Gibson, reported a constitution and by-laws which were adopted. The next meeting of the organization will be held at the Association building Friday night. In explaining the general purpose of the organization, D. D. Gibson stated that cooperative Christian work would be undertaken by the club and that its membership consisted of Christian laymen.

Mr. Higson, president of the club, stated this morning that this evening members of the club had agreed to cooperate with the Christian workers at the Eastside Baptist church.

An arrangement has been perfected whereby the club is to assist the Salvation army with its work, especially on Saturday nights, Mr. Higson explained, that the name of the organization is "Christ's Minute Men."

"It is the earnest purpose of the club," stated Mr. Higson, "to meet the needs as they arise. The membership will be subject to any and all calls for assistance. We do not plan any large meetings and we hope to accomplish some real service."

WHOLESALE PRICES IN UPWARD TREND

Month of September Shows the Living
Costs Rising

PRICE OF BUILDING MATERIALS DROPS

Decrease in Fuel and Lighting Costs Also Are Revealed

(Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—The trend of wholesale prices, which has been gradually downward since May, took a decided turn upward in September, it was shown today in statistics compiled by the department of labor. An advance of two and three fourths per cent was indicated in a compilation which included 404 commodities.

Clothes and clothing showed the greatest increase, due mainly to the marked advances in raw silk, print cloth and cotton yarns, according to the figures registering an advance of four and one half per cent.

Advances in corn, oats, rye, wheat, hogs, cotton, eggs and hay caused the farm products group to rise three and one half per cent. The net increase of three and a half per cent also was shown for the food group because of the continued advance in the price of fresh meat and pork, butter, cheese, eggs, flour, lard, cornmeal and sugar. A net decrease of more than two per cent was shown in building materials.

As compared with a year ago, measured by the same figures the general trend of prices was shown to have risen slightly more than one half of one per cent. The decrease of nearly 28 per cent in fuel and lighting during the 12 months was offset by increases occurring in all other commodity groups, ranging from one per cent in building materials to nearly ten and one half per cent in cloth and clothing.

SLAYERS OF PAIR KNOWN TO POLICE

(Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—The slayers of Joseph B. Elwell and Dorothy King Keenan, victims in two of New York's most notorious unsolved murder mysteries, are known to the police, according to Police Commissioner Enright, but the evidence is insufficient to warrant arrests.

Elwell, a sportsman and bridge expert, was slain in his apartments one night in May 1920, after he had been host at a roof garden party atop one of the city's most noted hotels.

Dorothy Keenan, Broadway butterfly, was slain in her apartments off Fifth avenue last March.

Speaking over the radio last night on police problems, Mr. Enright said: "In these unsolved cases, our books are not closed until the last principal involved is dead. Concerning the Elwell and Dot King mysteries—many of these cases are not mysterious to the police department. The murderers are known but we have been unable to get the one per cent additional legal evidence to make the arrest."

"The department never sleeps. We hope some day to get the other one per cent of evidence. It is better to be sure of your shot than to miss."

MISSION SOCIETIES HOLD CONVENTION

District Meeting Just Concluded After a Splendid Session

TRINITY WOMEN ARE GIVEN PRAISE

Hospitality Is Extended Mission Workers
of This Section

Returning delegates to the biannual convention of the Woman's Missionary Societies of this district as held at Trinity were enthusiastic in their praise of the hospitality of the Trinity church ladies, and of the addresses made at the convention by Mrs. R. A. Thompson, Mrs. B. Lile, Mrs. Will Emens and Mrs. Frank Emens.

The convention was called by Mrs. F. F. Tidwell, who is the president of the Federated Woman's Missionary Societies of the district. Mrs. Tidwell was not able to attend the convention and Mrs. L. P. Troup was appointed to preside over the meeting.

The sessions were held in the First Methodist church. In addition to the women present, the following ministers were in the convention, Rev. R. A. Thompson, pastor of the First Methodist church, and Rev. Morris, of Trinity.

At the close of the convention it was agreed that the convention next April be held in the Associate Reform Presbyterian church in South Decatur, with the other churches in that section of the city assisting in entertaining the convention.

Following the morning session Saturday a delightful plate luncheon was served by the ladies of all the churches of Trinity. With the exception of the address to have been delivered by Mrs. Norma Stewart who was in Atlanta attending state W. C. T. U. convention the following program was rendered. Mrs. Stewart's paper being read by Mrs. Frank Gray:

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—The federal trade commission has ordered the Raft and Son, New York City jobbers in jewelry plated wear and toilet sets, to discontinue the alleged misbranding of articles offered for sale. The commission charged the company had variously advertised as Parisian ivory white ivory and read ivory various articles which contain no ivory at all.

BIG RAILWAY LINES FIGHT IOWA WOMAN

Four powerful railways, backed by many millions, are allied in a fight on pretty Miss Helen Schultz, 24-year-old woman, residing at Mason City, Iowa. Miss Schultz seeks a permit to operate automobile omnibus lines out of Mason City. She already operates 24 such lines and wishes this permit extended. The roads are fighting her before the State Railroad Commission on the grounds that her lines hurt their business.

FRED HALL ASKS FOR CLEMENCY

(Associated Press.)

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Oct. 17.—After hearing both counsel and witnesses in behalf of Fred Hall, now serving a life sentence in the state penitentiary, the state board of pardons took under advisement Hall's application for parole.

Hall was convicted in the circuit court of Franklin county of shooting and killing Martha Henderson. At the time, he was a prominent merchant of Russellville, Ala., where the tragedy occurred. The case and the trial which followed which resulted in Hall's conviction, attracted widespread attention.

Testimony in the case tended to show that Hall and the woman—had been intimate over a period of about a year and a half, that several times she had threatened his life, and that on the day of the tragedy she called him over the telephone and said she was coming to see him, that she did come to Hall's store and that he shot her as she was about to enter, the door and that she died from the effect of the wound.

Hall's defense was that after the woman threatened to kill him, when she came to the store in the fatal day he expected her to be armed and that he also expected her to carry out her threat to take his life.

During the hearing before the pardon board Friday, Hall was represented by Travis Williams and W. L. Chenault, Russellville attorneys. Witnesses in Hall's behalf were Clyde Carter, of Russellville, W. E. Howard, Birmingham attorney, and N. B. Crawford, warden at River Falls prison camp.

Mr. Howard, who it is understood, declined to testify at Hall's trial, stated to the pardon board Friday that some time before the tragedy Hall, who is a married man, and the woman who later was killed, were in his office; that the matter of Hall procuring a divorce was discussed between Hall and the woman, that Hall tried to put her off and that she then threatened that if Hall didn't get a divorce she would kill him.

NEW GULF STORM REPORTED TODAY

(Associated Press)
NEW ORLEANS, La., Oct. 17.—Reports of a new gulf disturbance, with its center about latitude 26, longitude 90, that is about 250 miles directly south of New Orleans, put the local weather to work this forenoon on observation to determine the probable course.

It was said to be too early to determine where it would strike and no actual storm warnings were ordered displayed.

An advisory warning, however, was issued to shipping. The intensity of the storm was not known and the bureau was awaiting wireless report from vessels that might encounter it.

C. OF C. MEMBERSHIP WILL HEAR EXPERTS

Wilson-Lawrenson and Board Will Be Guests Here

ATTENDANCE WILL BREAK RECORDS

Advertising Will Be Subject of Noted
Speaker

The membership meeting, which will be held in the auditorium of the chamber of commerce building Thursday evening, promises to be the most interesting meeting held for some time. Mr. Wilson-Lawrenson has been secured as the speaker of the evening and will bring a message that is uppermost in the minds of every business man and every good citizen at this time.

Mr. Wilson-Lawrenson's subject will be "Advertising" and he will discuss the importance of truthful advertising both in merchandising and all other lines of business.

"The time has come when it is just as necessary for our cities and our states to advertise as it is for our individual business. We must let the world know what kind of a town we have, what kind of people we have, what kind of a county and state we have in order that new investment may come here and that our own people may be better satisfied and may make more progressive and better obtained. It was stated by an official today."

The speaking will be preceded by a banquet, which will be served promptly and the menu will be appealing. A letter just received from A. G. Patterson, president of the public service commission, advised that the three members of the commission will be present and each of them will be called on for a short talk. Some local speakers will also be called on.

Any members who have not returned card of acceptance were requested to please call Albany 51 and advise the secretary so the place will be reserved. Indications are that all places will be taken by tonight.

The concert band will be a special feature of entertainment and will play throughout the evening. They will be led by Prof. Marston, who has so successfully directed the local band.

The following letter was made public today:
Mr. J. W. Clifton, Pres.
Chamber of Commerce,
Decatur, Alabama.
Dear Mr. Clifton:—

Commission has arranged to come to Decatur from Huntsville Thursday morning and accept your invitation to attend membership meeting of the Chamber of Commerce on Thursday evening.

With regards and best wishes, I am,
Yours Very Truly,
A. G. Patterson
President.

P. S.—Please advise the Decatur Daily of the Commission's visit. The Commission upon invitation of Mr. W. W. Fussell will be guests of the Kiwanis Club Thursday noon and will go to Athens in afternoon and return to Decatur for your meeting in the evening.

A fifty-fifty partnership is good, but a 100 per

Philosophers say there is more pleasure in pursuit than in possession. They were probably thinking of a hard job.

Bad appearances provoke unfavorable comment;
criticisms cause people to act ugly; ugly action causes still more criticism and so on until life becomes a burden like unto that mill stone mentioned in the Bible. And still ours is a rather merry old world after all. At any rate, it is the best world we have at the present.

FIRES GAIN DESPITE IMPROVED ANTI-FIRE MACHINERY

It would appear offhand that the greatly improved methods for fighting fire would have reduced the number of fires in this country through the years, but such is not the case, as the following table of fire losses shows:

In 1910, $234,470,650; 1911, 234,337,250;
1912, $225,320,900; 1913, $224,728,350; 1914, $235,591,350; 1915, $182,636,200; 1916, $231-442,995; 1917, $267,273,140; 1918, $317,014-835; 1919, $269,000,775; 1920, $330,853,925;
1921, $332,654,950; 1922, $410,889,350.

and for the first six months of the year the following record for the month of June is appalling:

For June: 1923, $34,851,900; 1922, $24,102-850; 1921, $29,000,700.

First 6 months: 1923, $222,051,200; 1922, $192,859,600; 1921, $164,926,750.

It is well we have improved fire engines and better water pressures in most cities, but nothing will take the place of individual care, such as was asked for in the proclamation of Commissioner Nelson and in the appeal of Fire Chief Sorber.

SEEKING INSPIRATION FROM THE BONES OF THE ILLUSTRIOUS DEAD

The authorities of Oglethorpe University in Georgia are determined to have the earthly remains of General James Oglethorpe of Georgia removed from their resting place in the cemetery of Graham Church, England, and buried in the soil of the State of Georgia. The proposed action of the Georgia school authorities has given a number of writers in this country an opportunity to call attention to the fact that a man is separate and distinct from his body, especially after the man has left his "out-worn shell by life's unresting sea." It will be a question in the minds of many as to whether the spirit of Oglethorpe will be any closer to Georgians with a few of his bones upon Georgia soil. A man like Socrates is reported to have been would certainly not be impressed with the exploit of the Georgians in bringing long-buried remains of a human being half around the world and reburying them. Socrates made light of those who asked him just before his death as to his burial by remarking in effect that if they could catch him they might bury him where they liked. If Georgians can catch the spirit of General Oglethorpe by burying his mortal remains where they propose, well in the way, but it is hard to believe there is any and good, no one desires to put a single obstacle connection whatever with a few ancient bones and the live spirit of a man. If the old General could be consulted, it could doubtless be said of his will in the matter of removing his bones, as was said of Sir John Moore in the famous poem on his burial, "and little he will wreck, if we let him sleep on in the grave where a Briton has laid him."

Reports show that the British public, through their newspapers, has raised strong opposition to the removal of the bones of Oglethorpe, but it is understood the majority of the congregation of the Graham Church, where the famous general was buried, is in favor of the plan of the Georgia school authorities.

PRESIDENT HARRISON MAKES
STATEMENT OF TRUE CONDITIONS

For many days the pessimistic croak of the few has been sent broadcast that the business conditions of the South are steadily growing worse. Some say that firms without large holdings and fat accounts will be unable to stand the test this fall. Yet there are others that keep the world looking at the brighter side with their prediction of better times and greater business.
One of these men is Fairfax Harrison, President of the Southern Railway System. Mr. Harrison gives a brighter outlook on the future in making his twenty-ninth annual report to the stockholders of the great system. His statement follows in part:

"Undoubtedly prosperity prevails in the South.
"Industries of the South, with few exceptions, have been running full time and have found profitable markets for their products."

In speaking of the textile industry of the South
Mr. Harrison continues:

"During the twelve months ended July 31, 1923, there was a net increase of 371,000 spindles in Southern mills. This compares with a net increase of 80,000 spindles in mills outside the South. Additional mills are under construction in the South, assuring a continuance of this growth."

"The Southern iron and steel industry has had a prosperous year, and important additions are being made to plant capacity. The same may be said of the lumber and cement industries."

"A noteworthy feature of the building record has been the large number of school houses built in both urban and rural communities."

Statements given regarding the peach, apple and tobacco crops show appreciable increase over the 1922 yield.

Mr. Harrison will have the thanks of a grateful public for the work that he has done in preparing a statement that speaks of true conditions and does not rely upon exaggeration to boost the trade conditions of the South above the mark actually made.

An underpass is more humble than a grade crossing, but it is much safer.

SOUTHERN RAILROADS REFLECT PROSPEROUS CONDITIONS

The faith felt in the South as a great industrial center by the authorities of the great railroads of the South, such as the Louisville and Nashville, the Illinois Central and the Southern Railway should be reassuring. These roads have also shown their faith by their works. They have bought largely of new equipment as if sure of larger business in the future. These railroads hold that the South is very prosperous at the present time, and keenly desirous of extending her business conquests. In a recent lengthy report President Fairfax Harrison of the Southern Railway takes the ground there is great expansion in all the trades and industries of the South. He says the industrial plants have been running on full time, and that increased equipment has been bought by the steel mills, the cotton factories and all the smaller industries of the South. Mr. Harrison's report points out increases in the production on Southern farms, and the opinion expressed in the report that Southern farmers are beginning to practice diversified farming on a large scale.

Those who have read the newspapers of this state know of the large new equipment bought by the Louisville and Nashville railroad in the last twelve months. It is claimed that the Illinois Central and the Southern railroad have bought as largely as has the Louisville and Nashville railroad. Since last spring the Southern has bought 62 new locomotives, 2,470 freight cars, and three diners at a cost of close to nine million dollars. It is claimed that the freight business of this road was about 80 per cent greater this year than during the same period last year. The following figures taken from the report of Mr.
Harrison are very convincing as proving the present prosperous condition of the South, at least along the Southern railway:

The income account of the company for 1922, previously published, showed a balance of $8,823,796 over fixed charges as compared with $2,026,662 in 1921, and $1,716,149 in 1920.

Figures for the first eight months of the current year show operating revenues, $99-417,379; increase as compared with the corresponding period of last year, $18,081,873, or 22.14 per cent; operating expenses, $75-007,347; increase, $11,486,506, or 18.08 per cent; operating income, $17,691,059; increase $6,58,190, or 57.49 per cent. Operating ratio was 75.45 per cent as compared with 73.01 per cent last year.

RECALL OF WOOD
ASKED OF AMERICA

(Associated Press.)
MANILA, Oct. 17.—The Philippine legislature today, after one of its stormiest sessions in its history adopted Fergie Osmena's resolution, approving the action of the independence commission of last July, in demanding the recall of Governor General Leonard Wood.

MANILA, Oct. 17.—Another bloody outbreak of Moros in Lanao province island of Mindanao, was reported here today and the aid of United States troops was asked by the provincial authorities.

Notice to the Public

We have sold to Sneeke & Sherrill our stock of merchandise and on Monday, October 22nd, will begin taking inventory. At that time our doors will be closed, and no merchandise will be sold until the inventory is completed and the stock delivered to the above named firm.

I am retiring from business for the present because I feel that I should have a substantial vacation for a while and if my vacation proves a success,
I hope to extend it for a while longer, but not indefinitely, as I feel that all of us should work while we are young and able to "kick a goal" and "bat the balls when they are put over the home plate."

For a short time I will have a desk in the store for the purpose of winding up and collecting a few accounts, that are owing to me.

To those of our friends whose patronage and confidence we have had for so long, we hereby express our gratitude and appreciation, and I hope that, before many months shall have passed we may be able to renew our business relations in some form. In selling the business I am retaining no financial interest and whatever good will may have been built up during these years is transferred to my successors, whom we commend to our friends as being capable, energetic, courteous and business like young men and entirely worthy of their confidence and support. GEO. D. WILLIAMSON.

Firm,
Plump
Flesh!

MANY are the eyes that are turned to gaze with keen admiration on the well developed, healthy girl no matter where she may be—on the rapidly moving thoroughfare or gliding gracefully over the dance floor.

All eyes turn because we all appreciate the girl with the figure so firm and plump—the girl with radiantly red cheeks, cheeks that carry a touch of roses from nature's own garden—the girl with the sparking eyes, keen and sharp—the girl with buoyancy and the swing of youth.

Not necessarily an out-of-doors girl. Just a girl with ever increasing blood cells. Just a girl filled with the vim and vigor of youth.
S. S. S., since 1836, has stood for increased blood cells. S. S. S. means restored strength—rekindled vitality —added energy. Take S. S. S. and watch the bloom of youth return to your cheeks. Watch that flabby, ill nourished flesh fade away before flesh that is firm and plump. Red blood cells will do it and S. S. S. will build them. It contains only pure vegetable ingredients. S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores.
The large size bottle is more economical.

DECATUR

Circus Grounds at Lee-Davis Oak and Line St.

Friday, 19
October

Featured in Sparks Circus.

Sparks Circus, which exhibits in Decatur Friday, Oct. 19, prides himself on two things, his ability to raise blooded horses, and his ability to select charming girls to ride them.

At Macon, Ga., where Mr. Sparks maintains his home and where the winter quarters of the circus are located, are his large training barns, where much time is devoted to the training of the splendid steeds which play so prominent a part in his circus.

Although a large corps of expert horsemen are retained there all year round at an enormous expense, Mr. Sparks gives his horses his personal attention.

While he has specialized in native breeds, his stables include a number of fine Arabian and German horses and all trained to a remarkable degree of equine intelligence, the latter group of sixteen being a recent importation from Stellinghen, Germany and are valued at the modest sum of forty thousand dollars. But it takes more than perfect horses to make an exhibition of equestrianism complete and attractive. The fine, sleek, well kept animals are shown at their best only when ridden by pretty girls. Here Mr. Sparks finds his southern home ideally located, for within a short radius are hundreds of beautiful girls, "Georgia Peaches" in birth and looks, from which he selects his dashing equestriennes who have added so much to the fame of the Sparks Circus. The public will have ample opportunity to view both maids and horses in the lengthy street parade which leaves the grounds promptly at 10:30 circus day. This feature will display many open dens of rare wild animal specimens, herds of elephants and countless other features and music will be contributed by three brass bands and two calliopes. The main performances this season on an even more pretentious scale than those of previous years, commence at 2 and 8 p. m. the doors being opened one hour earlier for the reception of the public in the menagerie department where each animal cage is individually electrically lighted to permit a close inspection of the comprehensive zoological display. Children under 12 will be admitted for 30 cents including war tax at both performances here. Seats may be secured at the Alabama Drug Store on circus day at the same price charged at the show grounds.

TUESDAY AFTERNOON BRIDGE CLUB.

The Tuesday afternoon Bridge Club was entertained this week by Mrs. A. E. Humphrey at her home on Jackson street.

Other than club members her guests were Mrs. Frank Lide and Mrs. Workman and the latter received the guest prize, a box of stationery. Mrs. Markstein made highest score among the club members and was presented the prize.

Tempting refreshments, consisting of chicken salad sandwiches and coffee were enjoyed late in the afternoon.

TUESDAY BRIDGE CLUBS.

Mrs. Bloodworth was hostess to the Tuesday Bridge Club this week and guests substituting for club members were Mrs. W. E. Crawford, Mrs. Sydney Patterson and Miss Mabel Nesbit.

After the bridge game, refreshments were served. Mrs. Patterson received the guest souvenir for high score and Mrs. Bloodworth was awarded the club prize.

FEDERATED MISSION MEETING.

The Federated Missionary Societies of Trinity, Austinville, and Decatur met at Trinity on Tuesday with an all day session at the Trinity church.

Splendid programs were given in the morning and in the afternoon. A delicious lunch cafeteria style was enjoyed at noon.

Mrs. R. G. Cortner, who with her daughter, Mrs. W. B. Smith of Birmingham, and Mrs. John Lee Robinson of Memphis, Tenn., spent several months in California and other points in the west, is expected home tonight or Thursday night.

Mrs. Stanley Greene of Birmingham accompanied a party of young people on a fishing trip to Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Seneca Barr and her brother, W. R. Spight, have moved from their summer home on the Mountain to their home on Jackson street.

Mrs. C. J. O'Bryant and Mrs. C. O. Foote left this morning to spend several days in Nashville.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR SOCIETIES WILL MEET.

The annual meeting of the District Christian Endeavor Societies will be held on Saturday and Sunday of this week at the Westminster Presbyterian church.

Several ministers will deliver addresses and a large number of young people will attend. The hostess church will give a banquet on Saturday evening in their honor.

Mrs. J. Y. Hamill will entertain the Friday Thirteen this week.

The social service class of the Central Methodist S. S. was delightfully entertained by the teacher, Mrs. Virginia Graham at her home on Grant street, Friday afternoon from 3 to 5.

During the business hour officers were elected of the ensuing year, as follows: President Mrs. W. H. Winton, Secretary, Mrs. Prosser, Treasurer, Miss Grace Garrison.

During the week each member of the class had been busy making garments for the children in our Orphan's Home at Selma. There were brought and displayed a veritable bazaar. The pleasing design and dainty work on each small garment was an expression of love for the dependent little ones.

A reading, "An Orphan's Plea" by Margery Spencer was enjoyed. Mrs. Whitley also gave a pleasing number.

During the social hour a delightful ice course was served, the hostess being assisted by Mesdames Harris, Andrews and Mangrum and Miss Imogene Winton.

Ignore Supper Law.
One of the ridiculous acts of parliament still in existence in England is that passed in the reign of Edward III, regulating the meals of the people, which forbids more than two courses being served at dinner or supper, except on certain holidays. Needless to say, the law is broken with impunity.

Fairy Palaces.

Marble in Washington Monument.
All the marble in the facing of the walls of the Washington monument came from Beaver Dam Quarry, Baltimore county, Maryland. The slight difference in the color is due to the fact that work was interrupted for over twenty years and exposure to the elements had affected the marble slightly.

If Central Can Stop Morgan's Triple Threat Fullback, Chances to Defeat
Crimson and Blue Saturday Are Good

Coach Duyek halted practice yesterday afternoon to drill Central in defensive work in anticipation of the necessity of finding a way to stop Hartselle, plunging fullback, of the Morgan County team here next Saturday. Hartselle is a triple threat back. He plunges, skirts the ends, passes and punts. Aside from these more or less trying duties, he does very little to aid the Morgan County offense.

In Hartselle, Pepper will meet one of the few men in high school and prep circles who can compete with him at passing.

In signal drills this week, Pepper completed pass after pass to Lee and Blankenship for 45 yards. It takes a great deal of accuracy and no end of passing ability to hurl the pigskin 45 and 50 yards to receiver's arms. Yet Pepper does it. Reports from Hartselle are to the effect that Hartselle tosses a football very nearly as far. The passing duel between these two will be an interesting sight at the gathering Saturday. Inasmuch as both do much of the punting for their teams, both are triple threats and both are fullbacks will add more interest to their joint appearance.

According to the weights of the first string crew, announced at Hartselle, Central's backfield will outweigh the visitors, while the weight of the line will be very much the same, with Central having possibly a slight advantage there.

The teams probably will start as follows:

Walker RT, Weight 158.
Nelson RG, Weight 153.
Stephenson C, Weight 154.

To Relieve Canaries of Vermin.
Canary birds are often covered with vermin. They may be relieved of them by placing a clean white cloth over their cage at night. In the morning the cloth will be covered with minute red spots so small that they can hardly be seen with the naked eye. These are the parasites, a source of great annoyance to the birds.

Women, cats and birds, says a French satirist, are the creatures which spend the greatest amount of time at their toilets.

MY HUSBAND'S LOVE

Adela Garrison's New Phase of Revelations of a Wife

Dicky Liked Madge's Gown; All Went Well Until—

CIVILIZATION has enabled men and women to present a calm exterior, though their minds and hearts may be in a state of intense excitement. I wonder sometimes if it would not be better for our nerves and morals if we gave vent to our emotions as do little children and savages. Putting the lid upon poisonous gases means a bad explosion sooner or later.

I was very near the explosion, I told myself, as I shut the kitchen door behind me with the certainty that back in the living room Dicky was visualizing the exquisite beauty of Madge's gown as he hoped to depict it in illustrations. Never in my life have I found it harder to hold in my jealous anger, though I had far less grounds for my suspicious conjectures than in former experiences with my lovable, irresponsible, philandering husband whom Lillian has so aptly dubbed Peter Pan.

"Where did you pick that up?" But hold my emotions in check I did, and plunged into the work before me with such abandon that by five o'clock, the hour set for the arrival of Lillian and Marion, the apartment was in order, the dessert in the ice box, the salad ready for Dicky's famous dressing, the vegetables ready to put over the flame, the chickens roasting in Mrs. Schwartz's oven, and I was not only "clothed" for the evening, but also "in my right mind," for I had demonstrated anew the efficacy of hard work as a cure for mental anguish.

Dicky had made several futile efforts to help but had spent most of his time in alternate sleeping and listless reading. However, he looked up with animated attention, or an extremely clever substitute, when I emerged from the bedroom in a dress which he had not seen before.

"Where did you pick that up?" he demanded. "That's about the roughest thing I ever saw you wear. It looks like a French model."

"It is," I returned demurely, and enjoyed Dicky's involuntary widening of the eyes for neither his income nor my allowance from my father's Paris frocks. But, characteristically, he voiced neither criticism nor objection, only a question.

"Which one?"

I named the most exclusive of all, and then amended my statement. "That is, I took the idea from a model displayed by Hamble's a few weeks ago when I was window shopping. The woman who does Lillian's frocks cut the cloth for me according to my directions, and I did the rest."

Madge Is Dismissed.

I forgot part of my grievances against Dicky in the triumphant little thrill which his rapt gaze, the astonishment and admiration gave me. The frock in the simple tunic lines which make modern home dressmaking so easy a task, was of silvery gray crepe, which I had embroidered in blue at hem, girder, bust, shoulders, and the tiny draperies which were my concession to sleeves, or rather, my protest against their absence. I am a good needlewoman, thanks to my little mother's training, and I was calmly conscious that the gown was an unusually attractive thing.

"Well, you certainly beat the—ancient Phoenician," Dicky exclaimed. "But why that silver color? I don't see it becomes you, but then anything does that—"

He made me a grandiose bow—"and all that work—"

Three Minute Journeys

WHERE SAVAGES HAVE CLUBHOUSES TABOO TO WOMEN.

AMONG the most picturesque of the South Sea Islands is a group whose precise location and exact ownership, only one of the newest maps will show. This group is known as the British Solomons.

From about five hundred miles, the British Solomons extend through the tropical waters, varying in size from one hundred miles in length by thirty miles wide to coral islets only large enough to be seen at low water. Some of the Solomons islands rise into mountains perhaps ten thousand feet high. All these mountains show evidence of volcanic origin and most of the islands, themselves, plainly disclose latent volcanic energy biding its time.

WHEN AUTUMN HINTS

WHEN the leaves turn to rusty brown, when steel-grey clouds overshadow the sky and underfoot the ground grows crisp and hard with frost, what are the thoughts that creep into her mind? The first days of Autumn—a distinct change of season.

How can she help but hope the Power that plans this change has not forgotten her? She looks hopefully about for some sign and then—there comes a rustling and all around fall golden leaves, each shaped like a HEART. Then she knows that Autumn hints at love!

How to Improve the Texture of Your Skin by Simple Means

By LUCREZIA BORI

The Famous Spanish Prima Donna

LUCREZIA BORI

A CLEAR, velvety complexion is the aim of every woman who strives for beauty. To see such a complexion is to admire it, if not to envy it.

Look at your own complexion in your mirror. What story does it tell you? Do you get back a vision that sends you on your way light-hearted, rejoicing in the fact that you have a skin which needs no beauty-restoring methods to bring back the loveliness of youth? Or do you realize that something must be done—and that quickly?

If you come in the latter class you will be interested in the things I am going to tell you.

Of course there are really no short cuts to beauty. For a face to be really lovely, must have a background of health and vitality, encouraged by wholesome living.

If you eat too many rich foods you can never have a complexion of unalloyed beauty. You can't expect to overindulge in the line of chocolates and pastries and heavy sticky things, and still preserve a complexion that is marked by lightness and beauty.

So, first of all, you must learn to like simple foods, because they bring you health and help you to have the clear, girlish complexion that goes hand in hand with health and well-being.

Next, you must not put too many foreign substances on your face. You should have a well-tried cream and a good, reliable powder in your beauty kit. Stick to these, and, perhaps, try out an occasional new beauty aid which you know contains pure ingredients. But never, never get into the habit of going through a whole list of beautifiers, trying each one until your poor face fairly cries out for rest and a chance to be beautiful in its own natural way.

Now I'm going to tell you of a very simple way to improve the texture of your skin. This method helps to give it that satiny finish that makes any face lovely, and the encouraging part is that it is very, very easy to apply, the whole process taking only a few minutes.

All you need is:

Spirits of camphor 1 small bottle

Absorbent cotton.

First you wash your face thoroughly with warm water and a good mild soap. Rinse every particle of soap off, using warm water for the rinsing, and drying your face with a soft towel.

Now apply the spirits of camphor to your skin, using the absorbent cotton to rub it over your face, and using your finger-tips to massage it in very gently. Rinsing your face in slightly warm water after washing it leaves your pores partially open and ready to receive the camphor. Massage this in until all the moisture disappears.

You should be greatly surprised at the results, for camphor, as you know is very healing and beneficial to irritated, chapped skin. It also helps to absorb enlarged pores which stand between so many women and their beauty goal.

When you finish this you can give your face a light dusting with fine rice powder, and you'll find your skin feels soft and satiny. You may repeat this treatment whenever your skin seems to need a little beauty encouragement.

I knew him for some time and went out with him a number of times before we started to go together steadily. I have found out that I love him very dearly and that he loves me, but don't know whether he loves me.

Do you think I should continue to spend as much time thinking of him as I do? Shall I think of him only as a friend?

WORRIED ANN.

WORRIED ANN: Yes, my dear, that is the wisest policy. Consider the young man your friend, be attractive and entertaining, but do not devote all of your time and thought to him alone. Since you are not engaged, you should devote your time with your other friends.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am a girl nineteen years old. I have gone out with many young men, but always thought of them as good friends.

For the last three months I have been going steadily with a young man two years my senior.

THE HOME KITCHEN

By JEANNETTE YOUNG NORTON

The Authority on Home Cooking

Cold Weather Brings Pork Products Back.

AS cool weather becomes an assured fact pig products return to popular favor once more. Of course ham is used freely the year around because it is such a generally-liked sandwich meat and it also decorates the "cold cut" dish in an appetizing manner.

Even bacon has its share of Summer addicts, but the other pork dishes are rather set aside, until after the first frost, in favor of the other meats.

Americans are not always awake to the great delicacy and delightful flavor of the fresh ham when properly cooked. It is not only a delicious dish, but an economical one as well and worth trying, at least once. Pork chops often are cooked so hard and dry that they are not inviting. This may be avoided if they are boned, lightly broiled, then cooked covered until the meat is done. They should then be uncovered, browned delicately and served at once. Like all other fried things they dry quickly if allowed to stand after they are ready.

Applesauce, baked or fried apple, gooseberry jelly, jam or sauce, rhubarb jelly, sauce or jam, or a mint jelly are the appropriate things to serve with ham dishes. Sharp or mustard pickles, or sweet pickles may be used, but not any of the salt pickles or tomato sweet pickles. Sweet potato dishes and chestnut sauces and stuffings are usually served with pork.

Stuffed Fresh Ham.

Select a short, thick fresh ham and have the butcher bone it carefully for stuffing. Peel, blanch, then boil a pound of large, or small, chestnuts and when done drain and chop them very fine. Add a small cupful of crumbs to the nuts, a grated onion, a tablespoonful of minced celery leaves, a tablespoonful of mace, a

YOUR HEALTH

Why Science Must Direct Every Infant's Welfare

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D., United States Senator from New York, Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

RECENTLY I read a newspaper account of some explorations undertaken by a United States ethnologist. He discovered a mummified Indian baby in South Dakota. What is more important, because of its teachings, is that he found the remains of three babies for every full-grown Indian.

Most of us are more or less old-fashioned. We hark back to the "good old times" and the superiority of the early methods of living. We brag about what it means to bring up a baby "according to nature."

Mr. Sterling, the ethnologist, is a competent witness to that sort of up-bringing. It means early death for four or five times as many babies as die to-day.

I am so glad that communities are awakening to the importance of baby welfare and are inquiring as to the best means of guarding infant life. The other night, in northern Michigan, I spoke to a group of men and women, explaining the results of pre-natal and infant care. Without urging, these kind and far-seeing friends contributed the relatively small amount of money necessary to run their baby clinic for the next year.

There are many disappointments in the advances being made in medicine. We become impatient because the outlook in our particular age group is not improving as rapidly as we could wish. It is in the extreme of life that the brightest medical laurels have been won. The fairest page of all is what has been accomplished for the babies.

Methods in infant feeding have made great progress. Everybody should know this and take advantage of the better knowledge. Nobody doubts that the means of transportation have marvelously improved. There is a vast difference between an ox-team and a private car. The man will admit that even greater progress has been made in infant welfare.

When my boy was a tiny baby, a dear old uncle of mine, then nearly ninety, asked me if the baby had pork rind to chew on every day. On learning how neglectful we had been, he gave me a good scolding for our oversight of the child's welfare! Uncle's idea about the pork is only one of a thousand household notions, most of them worse for the baby than this. Advice about how to care for an infant is as plentiful as it can be in relation to anything in human experience. The trouble is that the advice is bad in most instances. The fact that babies survived that sort of treatment speaks more for their vitality and resistance than it does for the excellence of the advice.

The highest admonition I can give you is to follow to the letter the instructions of the best-informed doctor you can find, as to the feeding your particular baby should have. Don't do as the Dakota Indians did with their babies. Give the little ones the benefit of 1923 methods.

Answers to Health Questions.

WM. K. Q.—I am troubled with chronic sinusitis and would like to know whether this condition can be cured, and whether or not an operation is necessary to effect a cure.

A.—Yes, this condition is curable, but requires persistent treatment over an extended period of time. In some cases it is necessary to operate in order to effect a cure, while in others local treatment is sufficient. You should be under the care of a nose specialist, or under treatment at a hospital clinic.

R. M. Q.—Will you kindly tell me the correct weight of a boy twelve years old, who is four feet, ten inches tall?

A.—A boy of the age and height you mention should weigh about 86 pounds.

2.—No, this is not harmful, and if you find that it helps you continue to use it. I think it would be well for you to have your arches examined, as symptoms such as you describe are very often due to fallen arches.

A. O. Q.—Will you kindly tell me how to use cocoa butter to make the face smoother?

2.—How can I make large pores less noticeable?

A.—Massage your face each night before retiring with cocoa butter.

2.—Apply hot and cold compresses to your face, alternately, for ten minutes each day. This will help to make the pores less noticeable.

Advice to Girls

By Annie Laurie

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am a girl, twenty-two years of age, in love with a young man two years my senior. He went with me and wrote to me regularly for two years. Then he stopped and I have not heard from him since. I love this man dearly. He is not angry with me because he still speaks very nicely when I see him. Please tell me how I may win him back.

BLACK-EYED SUSAN.

BLACK-EYED SUSAN: Invite the young man to your home the next time you meet him and make his visit so pleasant that he will wish to call again. This will re-establish your friendship on the old footing.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am a girl nineteen years old. I have gone out with many young men, but always thought of them as good friends.

For the last three months I have been going steadily with a young man two years my senior.

I knew him for some time and went out with him a number of times before we started to go together steadily. I have found out that I love him very dearly and that he loves me, but don't know whether he loves me.

Do you think I should continue to spend as much time thinking of him as I do? Shall I think of him only as a friend?

WORRIED ANN.

WORRIED ANN: Yes, my dear, that is the wisest policy. Consider the young man your friend, be attractive and entertaining, but do not devote all of your time and thought to him alone. Since you are not engaged, you should devote your time with your other friends.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

Will you please answer the following questions:

1.—After returning from a visit to friends some distance away where I met a young man who was very attentive to me, is it improper to write a card to him expressing my appreciation?

2.—If one young man calls and another drops in while the first is still present, what should I do?

3.—Upon being introduced to a young man, is it always proper for the girl to rise?

Tomorrow's HOROSCOPE

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 18,

Although certain astral forces promise to open the way to a change of a journey of advantage, yet other influences threaten inharmonious disruption. There may be a tendency to quarrelsome and bitter speech with the disposition to resort to legal measures—which may be disastrous and futile. There is a warning against deceit, treachery and fraud. Consequently the attitude should be one of caution and protection, although resort to worry or anxiety would be futile.

Those whose birthday it is may encounter a troublesome year, with worry and annoyance, although there may be some valuable opening. The disposition should be kept under control, as strife and litigation would be useless. Be on guard against deceit or fraud. A child born on this day may be sensitive, with the tendency to worry unless it is carefully trained. It should be kept in cheerful surroundings and may succeed best in the employment of others.

Annie Laurie will welcome letters of inquiry on subjects of feminine interest from young women readers of this paper and will reply to them in these columns. Letters to Miss Laurie should be addressed to her in care of this office.

Government Ownership A Colossal Blunder

The Late President HARDING

President Harding, in a speech at Kansas City, took a firm stand against Government ownership of the railroads. He said in part as follows:

"It is worth while to bear in mind, in the face of current agitation, that we could not replace our railroads for a vastly larger sum than the valuation placed upon them by the Interstate Commerce Commission, and it is fortunate for our people that we do not have to contemplate a rate structure founded upon replacement cost. Events of the last few years have made us all realize that the railroads must be administered under some policy that will make it possible to find the capital wherewith to expand the existing systems as business shall require, without imposing an impossible burden upon industry and consumption."

"The railroad question is no theoretical problem. When the Government undertook operation during the war and standardized wages and was caught in the sweeping current of mounting cost, it created a situation to ignore which would quickly develop a national menace. At an awful cost we learned the extravagance and mounting burden of Government operation. Yet there are to-day very insistent advocates of Government ownership. Frankly,

I do not share their views. Our political system has not reached a state of development when we can insure proper administration."

"I believe it would be a colossal blunder which would destroy initiative, infect us with political corruption, create regional jealousies and impose incalculable cost on the public treasury. But we must find a solution of the rate problems and the necessary expansion of facilities and find that solution in spite of the prejudices of the present-day sponsors for operations and the present-day destroyers who would bankrupt or confiscate, else Government ownership and operation will become an accepted necessity. Nor do I share the views of those who would lower rates without regard to railroad good fortune. The prosperity of the railroads is the prosperity of the American people, and the property rights in railway investment are entitled to every consideration under our Constitution, which is due to property rights anywhere. Any tendency toward confiscation will lead to confusion and chaos and destroy the very foundation on which the Republic is built."

This advertisement does not reproduce all of President Harding's speech, in which he urged the consolidation of the railroads; but it is interesting to note his position on the subject insofar as it referred to Government ownership of the railroads as advocated by many politicians and even sincere people who think this is a solution of the railroad problems. The President's insight into the workings of the Government and his knowledge of the handling of railroads by the Government during the War made him go on record strongly against the Government's undertaking again the running of the railroads.

ENDEAVOR UNITS MEET SATURDAY

At a meeting held at the Y. M. C. A. Tuesday night of representatives of the Christian Endeavor Societies of the city, definite plans were made for entertaining the Christian Endeavor District Convention which convenes Saturday at the Westminster church for a two days session, the following committees were appointed: Homes committee, Louise Tisdale, Gene Buchanan, Mrs. L. F. Goodwin and Flossie Griffin, committee to meet trains, Catherine Smith, Gene Buchanan, Oscar Morrow, Marie Tally, Reception committee, Mrs. L. F. Goodwin, Gertrude Griffin, Ruth Jackson, Mr. Grose, Louise Tisdale, Mildred Bell, Louise Hedges, Music committee, Miss Flossie Griffin and Mrs. George Jackson.

The convention will open at the Westminster church at 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon, a banquet will be given at the church at 6 p. m. following which the delegates plan to form a line of march over some of the principal streets of the city, just before the Saturday evening session of the convention, which will open at 7:30 o'clock. The consecration sermon of the convention will be preached Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock by Dr. L. F. Goodwin, pastor of the Westminster church.

Report Marked Advances Under Forward Movement

DR. B. D. GRAY,
ern Baptist Convention
Secretary Home Mission Board South-

Suggesting the growth which the Baptist 75 Million Campaign has brought to the general work of Southern Baptists, it is reported by the general headquarters of the movement that during the four years that have intervened since the Campaign was inaugurated in 1919, the denomination has gained 57 district associations, 881 active ministers, 3,068 local churches, 3,287 Sunday schools with 469,223 pupils, 8,688 Young People's Unions with 233,917 members, and 7,094 Woman's Missionary Union organizations, and baptized 762,880 persons. At the same time the churches have given $28,776,537 more to missions, Christian education and benevolences than they did during the corresponding period prior to the Campaign, and have increased their investment in local church property by $45,405,118.

The larger resources made possible for missions and benevolences through the channels of the Campaign have been responsible for great advances in every form of denominational work, both at home and abroad.

Complete Church Building Fund
Among the outstanding achievements of the Home Mission Board, operating throughout the territory of the Southern Baptist Convention, are noted the completion of its million dollar church building loan fund, the baptism of 173,602 persons, reception into the churches of 277,968 persons, enlistment of 11,772 young people in the dedication of their lives to some definite form of Christian service, building or improvement of 1,872 church houses, and organization of 935 Baptist churches and 2,398 new Sunday schools.

Practically twice the state mission results have been accomplished in many of the states since the Campaign began as were had for any corresponding period of time prior to that movement.

Southern Baptists own 118 Baptist schools, colleges and seminaries, where nearly 40,000 young people are studying to fit themselves for larger usefulness. The number of students has been greatly increased through the Campaign making possible the larger equipment of the schools, and the investment which that movement has made possible in the schools is equal to about 45 per cent of their total value at the time the Campaign was inaugurated.

4,000 Orphans Cared For Nearly 4,000 orphan boys and girls are cared for in the 19 Baptist orphanages of the South. Two new orphanages have been provided by the Campaign and practically all of the older ones have been given better equipment by this movement. The equipment is not large enough yet, as 2,000 boys and girls had to be turned away last year because the institutions had no more room.

When the Campaign was launched Southern Baptists had only 12 hospitals. Today that number has been increased to 21. Last year over 47,000 patients were treated in these hospitals, a large number of these being charity patients who could not have had an opportunity to get well except through some such assistance.

The Relief and Annuity Board serving aged ministers, is now aiding more than 925 beneficiaries and has expended in direct relief since the Campaign began the sum of $414,892.46.

It will require $31,000,000 additional cash to complete the Campaign by the end of the period in 1924, and every effort is being made to enlist all Southern Baptists in having their part in this task.

The Century Plant.

The report that a century plant blooms only once in a hundred years is probably due to the impatience of some of its admirers. In some parts of South America where it grows wild it blooms once in eight years, but when it has been transplanted into greenhouses under artificial conditions its blooming date is much prolonged.

Mrs. Almer Carter Tells How She Got Rid of Rheumatism

The astonishing results that follow the use of Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup here seem to show that rich, red blood and that vigorous health and vitality which make life a joy, are in reach of almost every man, woman and child in the community.

One who has proved it is Mrs. Almer Carter, Route 2, Box 53, Culman, Ala., who says: "Rheumatism had me in its clutches for four years till I got hold of Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup."

"I simply can't tell you how terribly

I ached and how awful those pains in my limbs and joints were. I would begin to suffer and nothing helped me, although I was treated by five specialists and took all kinds of medicine."

"I read in the Thacher almanac where several persons had got rid of rheumatism by taking Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup, so I tried a few bottles. It sure ended my troubles and I am now doing all my housework."

Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup is sold by all dealers, and if your first bottle does not help you your money will be refunded.

UNCLE SAM STUDIES FEET OF THE WORLD

Commerce Department Finds Shoe Leather Used the Same in Brazil as at Thebes—American Shoes Supreme.

IN HIS efforts to build up the foreign trade of the United States Uncle Sam is making a thorough study of the feet of the world. He is finding out which nations have long, narrow feet, which have short, broad feet, which have thick feet and which have thin.

Incidentally he is learning things about the foot customs of the globe that throw a bright light on the habits of the ancient Assyrians and Egyptians and which make the characters of Babylonian dancers and Roman emperors seem familiar ones.

Through the Bureau of Domestic and Foreign Commerce at Washington, linking the activities of consuls in all quarters of the world, he is finding out social tendencies and pedestrian requirements purely for the benefit of American manufacturers of shoe leather.

In his own precise language, he is making a world survey of the foot and shoe industry, but it is really more than that. Uncle Sam is resurrecting the ghosts of the past and determining the shape of footprints that the footprints of the future will leave behind them on the sands of time.

The Shoe and Leather Manufacturers Division of the Bureau is in charge of the survey, which has been under way for some time and which will be concluded in the near future. It has numerous reports from consuls in the various districts of Germany, France, Italy, Greece, Mexico, Jamaica, Peru, Bolivia, Holland, Brazil, Venezuela and other countries. They give very definite facts for the guidance of American manufacturers in conquering world trade.

They also hold a great deal of romance and historical charm for those who care to study them analytically.

The manufacturer is delighted because they show beyond argument that American styles and the American built shoe are in the ascendancy in every corner of the globe.

Invading Europe. They are invading Europe. Since the war, Uncle Sam has learned, the German shoe has changed from the long, square appearance that formerly distinguished it and the Germans are making and wearing the pointed toe and long "vamp" that distinguish the American one.

The French, who lean toward short shoes with high heels, brief vamps and rounded toes, still cling fondly to this style; but the American contour is making big inroads even here, according to the reports of consuls. The short vamp and high heels were originally adopted for the purpose of shortening perspective and leading to deception as to the size of the foot. They are a sort of secret diplomacy. That they are giving place to the frank American confession of actual size seems to indicate that in shoes the doctrine of "open covenants openly arrived at" is attaining success.

Leather Most Used. The only American departure that is not being taken up to any extent is that of the substitution of other materials for leather. The majority of the world has always trod on leather and apparently is determined to continue doing so. In some of the older sections of Europe wooden clogs, often with leather uppers and leather inner-soles, are used. In the backward sections of South America sandals of rope are used when the people do not go entirely barefoot. Some French housewives used felt sandals in the house. These customs are still firmly entrenched, just as firmly as the use of leather for the majority of purposes. They give one of the evidences the bureau is uncovering of the essentially unchanging character of human nature.

Shoes Classified With "Valuables".

This is further exemplified by a custom of Jamaica, where shoes are considered by the natives to be a considerable luxury. It is not uncommon on that island to see natives on their way to church or to a social gathering carrying their shoes in their hands. When they arrive at their destination they ceremoniously put them on and enter into the business of the occasion. An identical custom was observed in early Egypt. Men of rank in going from place to place were followed by servants who carried sandals. When occasion warranted these sandals were gravely placed on the aristocratic feet of their owners.

Brazil brings a parallel to Biblical times and to those of the Roman Empire. Brightly colored shoes, such as those mentioned in Exodus of "ram's hide dyed red," are dear to the Brazilian heart. And Brazilian damsels follow the custom of Julius Caesar, descendant of the Albanian Kings, who was the only Roman entitled to wear red shoes seven days a week.

Even the New York girl would recently have considered it a hardship if she had to obey the rule that even the noblest Roman in Caesar's time observed on pain of death. That was to wear red shoes on no more than one day a week.

The persistence of the sandal and of the low shoe that approximates the sandal in the warmer countries of South America and even in southern France adds its testimony, too, to the perfection with which the earliest men in history solved the best use of shoe leather.

Leather Sandals Persist.

In La Guaira, Venezuela, about nine-tenths of the inhabitants wear, according to the consul there, "sandals consisting of a heelless sole leather sole and a cloth top which covers the fore part of the foot. A cloth heel-strap holds the sandal in place." These sandals, or "alparagatas," if they were found beside his bed on arising by the earliest Egyptian of them all, would not amaze him. Egyptian shoes were made just that way.

In the region of Bordeaux, France on the other side of the world, there is a sandal called the "Kneipp," which is very popular. It is of calf leather, with ornamented vamp and fastened with a strap, very much after the fashion of the most ancient people. Another type, called the "Charentais," is made of heavy felt, with a leather sole, and it is just as popular in Bordeaux as it would have been at Thebes. Nor are these sandals a fad of the moment. They have tradition behind them.

Fashion in design and color is an important factor in every country. The variety of native habits revealed proves the merit of American shoes in being able to make inroads against them.

The consul at La Paz, Bolivia, reports the making of special shoes with very high tops and heels, and of colored leather. They are for the "chola" women and are with all Bolivian shoes have very high insteps.

The consul at Callao, Lima, Peru, reports the shoes made for men are broad, short, high heeled, flashily finished and with many differently colored uppers.

"Quality," he writes, "is not the ruling factor in purchase, since five or six pairs of fancy shoes register higher socially than two or three pairs of plain quality shoes."

Rome reports that in Italian shoes the style and cut are extremely varied. Short, broad insteps seem most popular, while patent leathers, odd colors and fancy tops appeal to most buyers.

Returning to South America there is found an interesting survey of shoes in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, the Paris of that continent. The heat results in most men's shoes being oxfords, very few high shoes being made. Most of the women's shoes are pumps. Special style shoes, which sell for only a short time and are replaced by new designs are the rule here as in other mercantile countries.

"In the past," reports the consul, "the people always desired a shape which would make their feet look small. This is still true in the case of women's shoes although recently a sharp pointed shoe was introduced which met with considerable success."

In Rio the principal colors are tan, black and white. Sport shoes of tan and white with outstanding designs are in moderate demand.

"These sport shoes," it is reported, "are made more for show than for comfort as is commonly the case in the United States. On account of the Centennial Exposition there was considerable demand for women's ballroom shoes embroidered with various colored beads. The most common colors used were gold and silver.

Bright colored headed shoes in various designs are usually made to order. Congress boots are produced in large quantities for sale in the interior of the country."

From France came the following reports, among others. The consul at Bordeaux writes: "Formerly French boots and shoes had a very short vamp, and such shoes are still sold to a great extent. However, the present tendency is toward the American style, with its long vamp, and the best ready-made shoes manufactured in France today are identical with the American styles."

The consul general at Havre reports that style is the dominant factor in trade and that quality and comfort are of only secondary importance. "The outstanding feature of all French styles," he reports, "round toes, short vamps and extremely high heels."

Reports from Germany are typified by that from the consul at Dresden. "The shoes manufactured in many," he states, "can scarcely be called products of the German can produce. This is in marked contrast to the situation which existed until the outbreak of the war, when German shoes still had a long, elegant appearance and could be readily distinguished from the American product."

Our Beautiful Feet. It is likely that as a result of Uncle Sam's present study the beauty of world's feet will be improved. In various places, in South America, particularly, come reports of a standard of beauty he believes it is probably due to the style shoes that have been used. That American foot seems more beautiful to the possessor of the standard stumpy foot, seems proved by universal liking the peoples of earth are showing, both by purchase and imitation, for the American of shaping shoe leather.

PROGRESS FOR COMFORT EXCLUSIVE HOMES

The supply of air is drawn through the top of the stove where the most intense heat is, and taken down through the draft tube. The oxygen is there generated into a gas as it passes through the hot draft tube. In coming in contact with the flame in the fire pot, it produces a combustion practically the same as the manifold of a motor car does into the cylinder of the engine. The flame in the fire bowl acts the same as the spark in the cylinder by ignition.

When it is considered that ninety-five per cent of the personnel of Geo. E. Wintz's "Venus" is feminine, it would appear that a barber would find about as much opportunity to ply his trade as in the House of David. Such might have been the case a decade ago. Since textiles have given way to talcum, epidermis unblemished by hirsute flaws has become mandatory. Thus it is that a tonsorialist is carried by the company for the sole purpose of ministering to the wants of the lovely "Venus" maidens. So strenuous and exacting are the barber's duties that Mr. Wintz has promised to provide an assistant. Mr. Wintz will be glad to receive applications from local wielders of scissors and razor during the engagement of "Venus" at the Masonic theater.

SOUTHERN RAILWAY SYSTEM

$230,000 a day in wages

In the past five years the Southern Railway System has paid to its employees wages amounting to $422,000,000—an average of $230,000 a day—distributed through the South in purchases and savings.

Average earnings of our employees are now more than $1,500 a year, as compared with $380 in 1917. The rise in wages has been greater than the rise in the cost of living, so that the families of 50,000 employees whose livelihood is gained in Southern Railway service have happily been enabled to raise their standards of living.

Our employees recognize that our ability to pay attractive wages, without placing an unfair burden of freight and passenger rates on the millions of Southern families served by the Southern, depends as much on their efforts as ours.

By large expenditures of new capital we have greatly increased the productive efficiency of the Southern as a transportation machine, and the loyal and faithful cooperation of our employees is making this machine produce its full measure of public service.

Southern Railway System deposits in Southern banks an average of $150,500 each banking hour.

ALBANY-DECATUR DAILY

OFFICE CAT.

Copyright 1921, by Edgar Allan Moss.

Everybody shaves nowadays except the Smith Bros. and a few old ladies.

It's got so a chicken has to be about half defeathered before she can get her picture in the paper.

Why did they put the water so close to the land as to make it possible for folks to fall overboard and drown?

About the only exercise a cake-eater gets is the coughing between cigarettes.

A joke is like a neat ankle. It has to be seen to be appreciated.

The driver you try to pass is a road hog and the driver that passes you is another fool speeder, thinks he average motorist.

Hoisting your horn doesn't help as much at steering wisely.

Old stuff: "We are going to arrest every man we catch speeding."

Every day something is being done that couldn't be done.

A young lady of Wilmington Delaware.

Of high cost of living as well aware said she: "I suppose

I can save on my clothes. If I don't give a rap what the h— I wear."

Heredit— may be defined as something a father believes in, until his son begins acting a darn fool.

Cy Kology sez "Judgin' by sum of the syllogisms you see now a days clothin reform has driv the petticoats mfrs. out of business."

Sum peepul is so slow that the most they can get out of Old Hundred would be about seventy-five.

Uncle Levi Zink says that his niece Ivy would have married Doc Simpson he thinks only she got tired of having to take all his love letters to the druggist to get them read.

Squalling is splendid for babies. It gives them lung room.

HAY FEVER

The dread hay fever sweeps the land. It's worse by far than flu; We sit with hangy in our hand— Herchoo, Herchoo, Herchoo.

Business forecast: Less speculate more real business.

Ideas of Recreation.

One idea of rest is to do nothing, another is change of occupation and environment. Most people find it difficult to do nothing, and in recreation seek complete change, thus exemplifying the philosophy of living.

Companionship.

Oh, it is pleasant, as it is rare, to find the same arm linked in yours at forty which at thirteen helped it turn over the Cicero da Ametelia, or some tale of antique friendship, which the young heart even then was burning to anticipate.—Charles Lamb.

Beauty.

As with the man who inquired whether he had yet attained wisdom, so with anxiety about enjoying beauty, the answer must ever be, "It might have been, if you had not thought about it." Beauty has to come by the way.—W. R. Lethaby.

Frankness Without Judiciousness.

Some people who pride themselves on being very frank are often cruelly harsh.

Good Printing

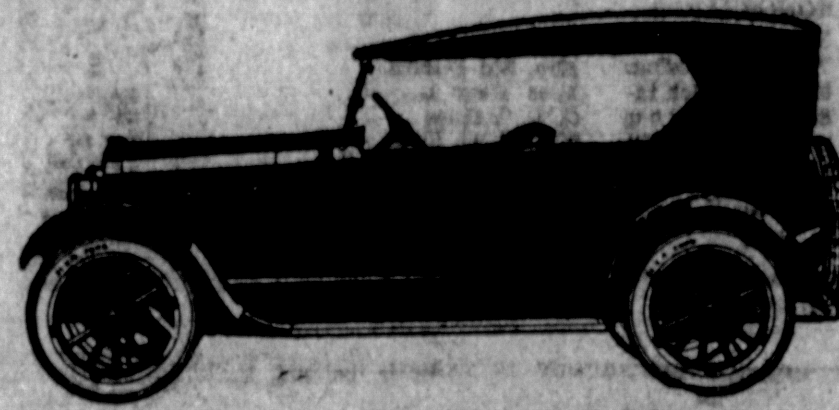

THE kind of printing that pays dividends is the kind you should have. Pale, muddy, poorly arranged printed matter is worse than none. The quality of your business is often judged by the quality of your stationery— inferior printing gives an impression of cheapness that is hard to overcome, while good printing carries with it a desirable suggestion of quality.

We produce only Quality Printing. Whether you want an inexpensive handbill or a letterhead in colors, if you order it from us you will be sure of getting good work. We have the equipment and the "know how" that enables us to get out really good printing—printing that impresses people with the good taste of its users. That is the only kind of printing that

The beginning of the second period is just getting started. And it is a very important period. To you, if you are not already ahead, this is the period that you should use to put yourself in the lead. You can do it, if you only but try. There are just five more weeks left, counting this present week, of Decatur Daily great automobile contest. The campaign is so very even that the winners will surely be those who make a real effort from now on. Those who are in the higher positions must work to guard their present standing, or they will be overtaken by others who can easily overcome them by their effort. From now on every candidate should work systematically. See every one as you come to them regardless. You will find that you will secure subscriptions where you least expect them, and you will likewise find that you can go right behind many other candidates and secure a great many subscriptions.

The entire vote schedule is published as has been. There will be no change from this present schedule under no circumstances. You can see for yourself just what you are going to get for your subscriptions. It has been the policy of this company to at all times keep the candidates and the public informed as to just what you would be given in advance. When this present campaign was first announced the entire vote schedule was made up from start to finish and under no circumstances will it be changed. You can notice that the votes get smaller as the campaign goes on.

So you should work hard for subscriptions this week and next, for it is an important period to all the candidates, as the campaign is so very even. It is nearly impossible to try and find a leader at this writing. There seem to be so many so very close together that it will take more time than the campaign management has at the present time to find out who is really leading the campaign. And whoever is leading has it only by a very small majority, so it is up to every candidate to get out this next two weeks and make them count for you. Make them win for you. Give your friend something to look at. Make them sit up and take notice that you are out to win.

The prizes that the Decatur Daily is giving away to the public are all bought and on display at different local merchants in Decatur. You may see any of them so pick out your prize and go after it—it will be well worth your time. Think of it! Can you make $1,100.00 in such a short time? No, of course you cannot. Now is your time to win a real automobile without spending a single penny of your own.

Watch for the next list of divisions and see who are working and see if they are falling back. Then if the candidate you are helping falls back, help some one who wants to win a car or one of the other prizes.

Effect of Vines on Walls.

Stone and brick buildings are not injured by clinging vines. These may keep the building cool somewhat later in the spring, but are otherwise harmless. On wooden buildings damage may be done, since many vines which climb by twining force their way through any joint which is not perfect and then by continued growth force the woodwork apart.

Oldest Known Will.

A will executed in 2548 B. C. is the oldest extant. It is written on papyrus by an Egyptian named Uah. In it he gave his home and other property to his wife, to be left by her to any of their children; arranged for the burial of himself and wife, and appointed a guardian for a son. In fact the will differs little from one which might be executed today.

What the Vulgate Is.

The Vulgate is applied to the Latin version of the Scriptures which the Council of Trent authorized in 1546. The older version, known as the Italic, is supposed to have been made in the Second century.

Disolution Notice.

The partnership heretofore existing between T. F. Sheats and L. B. Reynolds under the firm name of Sheats and Reynolds has been this day dissolved. The said T. F. Sheats having assumed the interest of the said L. B. Reynolds and having succeeded to all rights and interests of firm all debts of said firm having been assumed by and are to be paid by T. F. The New Remington Game Loads

Be sure to see them—the biggest advance ever made in loaded shot shells. Produced as the result of important Remington discoveries about powder. There is a Remington Game Load for every kind of game in this locality. Each one is loaded to give safe and uniform velocity, pattern and penetration—the right shooting quality for that particular kind of game.

The load pictured above is the Remington Heavy Duck Load. It comes in 12-gauge with either No. 4, 5 or 6 Shot and in 20-gauge (the hard hitting 2 3/4" shell) in No. 6, 7 or 7 1/2 Shot. The velocity, pattern and penetration are right for big ducks, and for long range shooting when they are flying high. Sure and safe!

Remington Game Loads are loaded in the famous Nitro Club Waterproof Shells. Here is the complete list:

| | | |
|-----------------|-------------|---------------|
| DUCK LOAD | RABBIT LOAD | SQUIRREL LOAD |
| HEAVY DUCK LOAD | QUAIL LOAD | SNIPER LOAD |
| GOOSE LOAD | GROUSE LOAD | DOVE LOAD |
| BUCK SHOT LOAD | TRAP LOAD | |

Powder varies—Remington Game Loads do not!

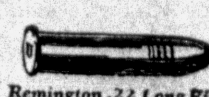

Remington Metallics

The first successful metallic cartridges ever made were produced by Remington 65 years ago. Practically every betterment in rifle and pistol ammunition has been invented and developed by Remington. Dependability and accuracy make Remington Cartridges outsell all others.

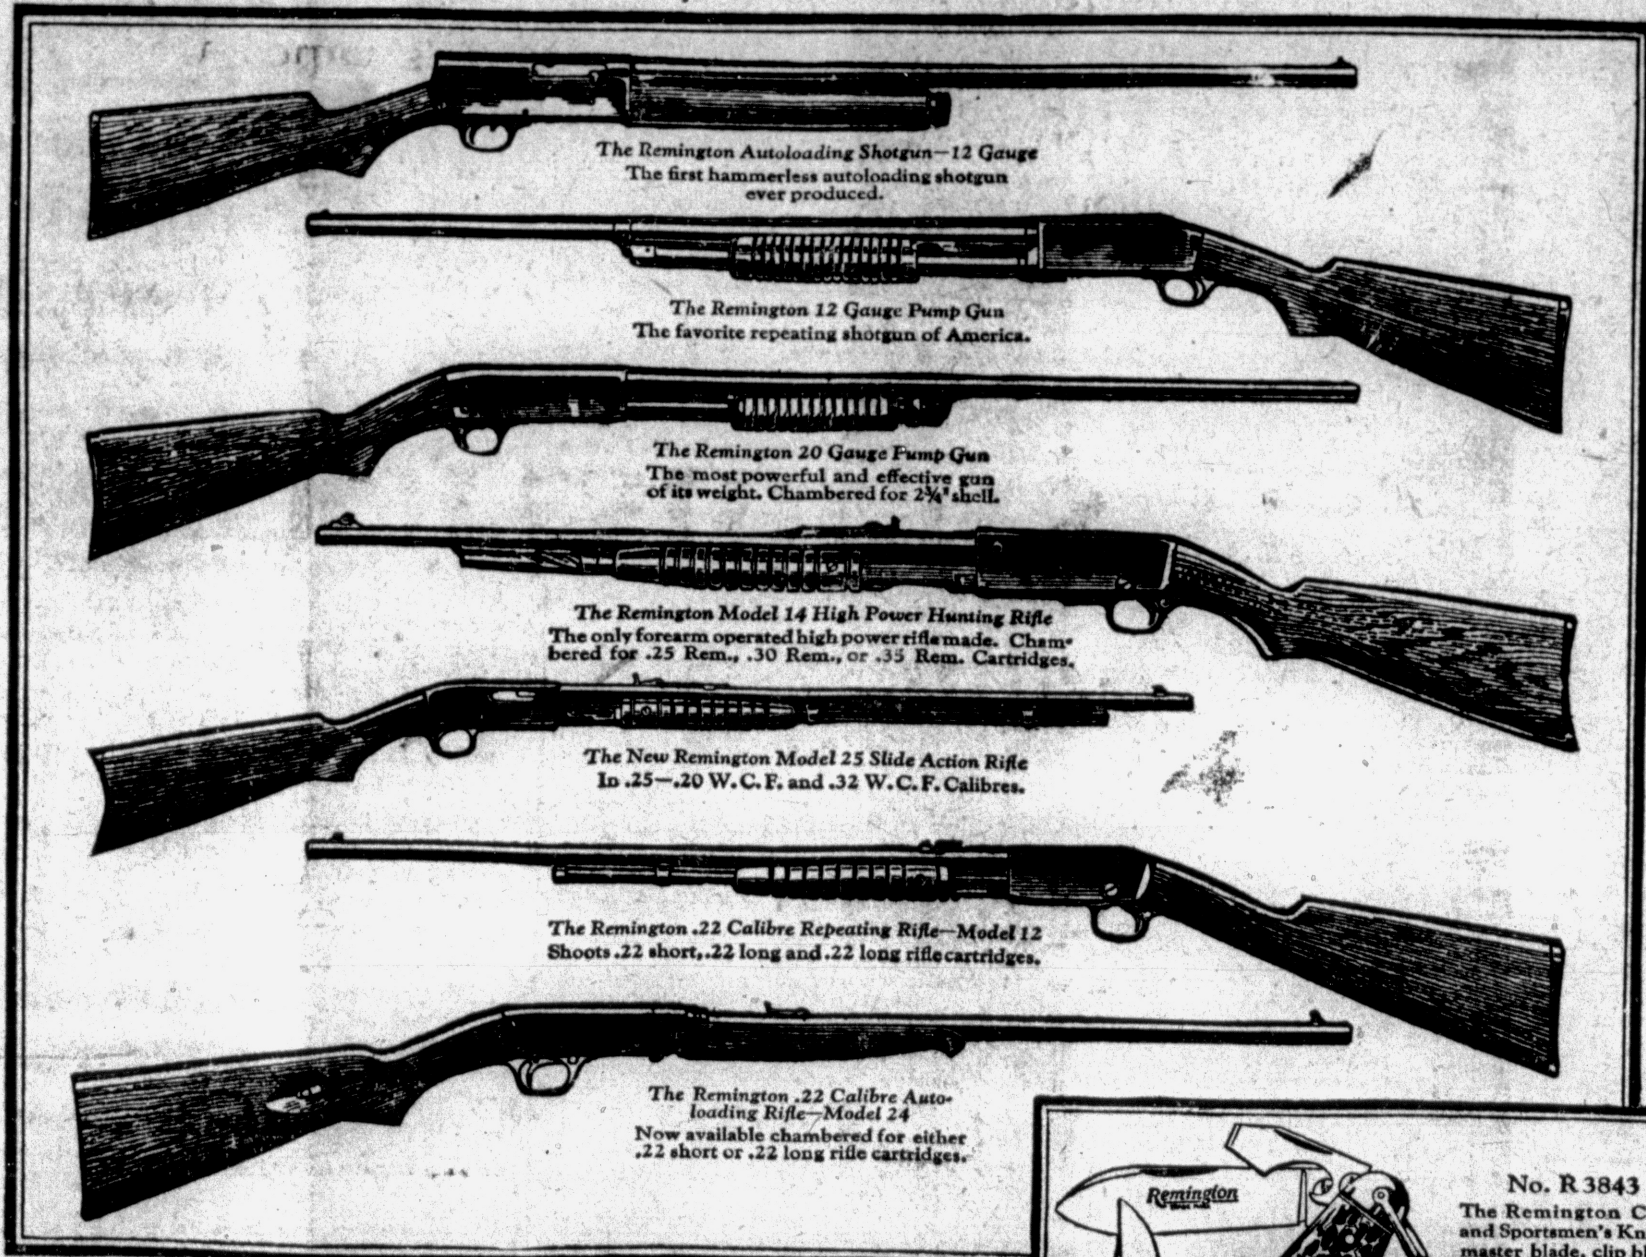

Remington Hi-Speed Rifle Cartridges in .25, .30 and .32 calibers for nearly every standard rifle. Flatter trajectory, greater accuracy, and killing power never before approached.

Remington .22 Long Rifle "Palmer" Cartridges. Beyond question the most uniform small bore ammunition ever developed. The super-accurate .22 long rifle cartridges.

Remington Lemok .22 Longs and .22 Shorts. With the new Remington primer. Developed to give the owner of the .22 a dependable sure-fire load.

The Remington Autoloading Shotgun—12 Gauge
The first hammerless autoloading shotgun ever produced.

The Remington 12 Gauge Pump Gun
The favorite repeating shotgun of America.

The Remington 20 Gauge Pump Gun
